Guster

Since forming at Tufts University in 1992, Guster has become one of the leading indie/alternative bands, releasing seven critically acclaimed albums in 20 years starting with Parachute in 1995 and hits such as "Satellite" and "Fa Fa." The bands latest album, Evermotion, introduces you to a Guster that is free, not calculated, seasoned but loose, confident in re-shaping their legacy. Guster's songs remain packed with hummable choruses and dense lyrical detail amid the muscular guitar riffs, clanging percussion and deceptively dark lyrics. Guster.com

Andy Grammer

Since the release of his 2011 self-titled debut album, the Los Angeles native singer-songwriter known for his vibrant pop/rock/soul mix has taken an incredible journey. Grammer became the first male pop star in a decade, since John Mayer in 2002, to reach the Top 10 on Adult Pop Radio on his first two singles, "Keep Your Head Up" and "Fine By Me," selling more than 1.5 million downloads combined. Andy's latest hit "Honey I'm Good" has reached the Top 20 on the Billboard Chart and is sure to be a summer anthem. AndyGrammer.com

Shaggy

With a commanding presence, a distinctive voice that is recognizable throughout the world and titles such as artist, businessman, philanthropist and Grammy Award winner, Shaggy is and has been a force to be reckoned with. Shaggy exploded on the music scene in 1993 with his debut album Pure Pleasure followed by many hit singles including "It Wasn't Me," "Boombastic," and "Angel." Though he has won numerous Grammys and is the only certified Diamond-selling Dancehall Reggae artist, Shaggy has remained humble, taking his career in strides. In addition to his music career, Shaggy is also a philanthropist and has raised money for various hospitals and schools in Jamaica. ShaggyOnline.com

Gloria Gaynor

"I Will Survive" was recorded in 1978, as Gloria Gaynor's tale of personal strength. The song quickly climbed to the top of Billboard's Pop Charts and claimed the #1 position on two different occasions. Little did Gloria know, the song would grow into the banner for social survival, which is still relevant after three decades of international airplay. The song which itself has survived in various forms and has been re-recorded over 200 times by various artists such as Gladys Knight and Diana Ross. In between live concerts and personal appearances, Gloria has managed to pen an autobiography and lends her support to numerous charities. GloriaGaynor.com

Tito Puente, Jr. & His Orchestra

The comparison is inevitable. How could it be otherwise? Tito Puente Jr. carries his father with him – imprinted on his physical being and locked in his soul. It's in his looks, his joy, and his music. Tito, Jr. is determined to nurture the musical legacy left by his father and reveres the magnificent, lasting impact his father had on our musical lives. "People who don't know anything about Latin music know my father and people always, always smile when they say my father's name," he confides. "That is a very special gift I have been given." Tito, Jr.'s latest album, "Got Mambo?" is a mixture of the old and the new as he takes a musical departure into some powerful new music he can truly call his own.

Cherry Poppin' Daddies

The Daddies broke into musical mainstream with their 1997 swing compilation Zoot Suit Riot, selling over two million albums. Coming from a Swing, Jazz and Tin Pan Alley tradition that is almost an extinct lineage in music, Cherry Poppin' Daddies has made it their mission to veer from genre to genre across the musical map and has always prided itself on its craft and musicianship, superior skills that have allowed them to excel in whatever format they choose to tackle.
