LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT #REIMAGINEBEDFORDPROJECT

Bedford Street has long served as a landmark of Downtown. The street's iconic eateries, boutique retailers, Ferguson Library and the historic Avon Theater, combine to welcome visitors from neighborhoods throughout Stamford and communities across Fairfield and Westchester Counties. Like many urban corridors, Bedford Street faces the lingering effects of COVID. Bedford Street has witnessed a spike in delivery bike services, the permanent conversion of some on-street parking spaces into dining areas and changing dining patterns. To continue its station as the center for Downtown life, the City of Stamford and Stamford Downtown have partnered on the Re-Imagine Bedford Street initiative.

As part of this process, the City of Stamford and Stamford Downtown have retained Street Plans, an award-winning transportation planning, urban design, and placemaking firm. Street Plans will first work to better understand how people occupy and use Bedford Street. This analysis will study pedestrian flow patterns, pedestrian dwell times, seating occupancy rates, bike rack occupancy, social interactions, and common behavior or gathering trends that should be considered within a future street redesign. The project will include an in-depth study of morning, afternoon, and evening hours to better understand how the street works over the course of the day. A survey tool (veoci.com/v/p/form/323eu5qamzjn) has been created for stakeholders to share their observations and insights. This tool remains available and has generated strong feedback.

Finally, Street Plans will compare the market conditions and physical design of Bedford Street with other successful downtown commercial streets that are located within similar settings. This comprehensive process will generate an array of short-, intermediate-, and long-term recommendations that the City of Stamford, Stamford Downtown and stakeholders may use to direct the future of this vital street. The City and Stamford Downtown will circulate regular updates about this project.

A Green Transformation: UConn Stamford Veggie Garden Thriving!

What was once a bare and forgotten tree well at the corner of Franklin Street and Broad Street has been transformed into a bountiful community vegetable garden, thanks to a fantastic collaborative effort!

Planted in late May with the dedicated help of five enthusiastic Future 5 volunteers, the UConn Stamford veggie garden is flourishing. The plant materials were generously sourced through Stamford Downtown's trusted landscape maintenance vendor, Eastern Land Management, providing a strong start for our green initiative. With weekly weeding and watering diligently performed by the Future 5 volunteers, the garden continues to thrive. It's now brimming with a diverse array of fresh produce, including tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, fragrant basil, mint, dill, squash, and much more! We invite you to come and see this wonderful transformation for yourself. It's a true testament to community spirit!
